

Celebrating 25 Years of Stutman Law

It is important to share good news, especially during times of great difficulty.

Stutman Law celebrated our 25th anniversary on February 5th - a milestone that means a lot to me. I want to take this opportunity to thank our team and clients for making this possible.

Our team had the fortunate opportunity to celebrate together before social distancing became a household term.

I invite you to watch this short video of our celebration, in which we look back on things that have changed and those that have stayed the same since I started the firm.

Be well and stay safe.
